About Yamada Technology

Yamada Technology is a specialized resin manufacturing factory under our group, dedicated to the mass production of high-quality, collectible-grade resin sculptures.

From small gifts and cultural-creative products to large-scale, heavyweight collectibles, we provide B2B custom manufacturing support for original design projects. We support clients worldwide with customized resin projects covering prototype development, product development, and mass production.

We will promote our resin sculpture manufacturing factory to customers worldwide through the official MIHOX website.

We sincerely welcome brands, IP owners, designers, artists, distributors, and other professional clients from around the world to discuss resin projects with us through video meetings and explore opportunities for cooperation.

◆ Completed Order Sample Display ◆

The background image is a blue-tinted photograph of a large, modern factory or assembly plant. In the foreground, there's a curved, light-colored counter or partition. Beyond it, several workers are seated at long assembly tables, working on components. The tables are cluttered with various parts, tools, and blue storage bins. The floor is highly reflective, showing the overhead lights. The ceiling is high with a grid of recessed lighting. The overall atmosphere is clean and industrial.
